Play on a Word

It will be readily accepted that people who spend a considerable part of their time investigating the intricacies of cadavers in an anatomy lab are likely to develop a sense of humour slightly out of the ordinary. We have a little anecdote that furnishes an example. It is not a physically gruesome tale as might be expected. It could have been the work of others than medical students; but, as an attempt to find momentary escape from a morgue-like atmosphere it seems funniest.

Four lab partners were busy hacking away at their corpse when one happened to mention the notice of the M.R.T.F. advising of the resumption and telling all members to be prepared to take their muffs away. One of the four asked the others whether they had as yet CALLED FOR their muffs. Imperceptible winks were exchanged by the other three, and all said they had called for their muffs and advised the fourth to obtain his as soon as possible.

So the individual in question thereupon went up to the gymnasium-armory to call for his muffs. There is no known climax to the story. What happened to the victim in the armory he has apparently not chosen to divulge. It may be readily imagined, there not being much room for differing theories.

Double Life

Mention of things military brings to mind the plight of an energetic member of the student body whose ability to play a brass-band instrument well has been and is leading him to undergo experiences that are more than a little off the beaten path.

This chap is a member of the M.R.T.B. band. He is also a musician in the band of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve. He frequently has to change from an army uniform into a naval uniform according to the constantly changing schedule of his navy parades.

Besides causing fatigue, this double life is involving the soldier-sailor-musician in diverse little difficulties. A good example is the little matter of saluting. The navy salute is different from the army salute and can best be described as resembling an attempt to peer out from the deck to see how thick the mist is. Given to occasional spells of absent-mindedness, our friend not infrequently sees an officer looming in the not too great distance and has to look himself over to recall which uniform he is attired in, so that military or naval etiquette may be properly observed by performance of the requisite salute.

Untold numbers of stories have been written on the famed double-life theme. But we think that this situation can provide a refreshing new twist to a hackneyed plot for enterprising would-be writers.

We have a suggestion for this stalwart in his country's effort to be prepared for all eventualities. Perhaps he can attach himself to some Air Force unit (possessing a band). In this way he may (1) enlarge his wardrobe; (2) obtain greater opportunity for perfection of his musicianship under the theory that practice makes perfect; (3) provide himself with a mental discipline rivaling the widely advertised Pelmanism by the added effort that he

R.C.A.F. Blasts Three German Ships.

Early yesterday morning the R.C.A.F. added three more Nazi vessels to its score of over 30,000 tons of German shipping. Two direct hits were scored on a "very large" ship in a convoy off Terschelling and another medium sized ship in the same convoy was hit amidships. The third ship was left with the stern afire off IJmuiden.

Russian Heavy Artillery Check Foe.

Soviet big guns have checked a new Nazi drive on Moscow. These guns are reported to have been firing point blank at the German tanks and literally pulverizing them. The Nazis failed to break through after repeated assaults. The Russians say that their fighters are holding their own on two other roads to Moscow at Kalinin and Moshalsk.

Motorized Penny Transport

Snapped by the Daily in the midst of motor difficulties on Sherbrooke Street, these McGill co-eds, rumour indicates, were on their way to a downtown bank to bring back the penny-filled money-bags being used on the campus today to change contributors silver and paper money into coppers for the Mile of Pennies drive.

It was not ascertained whether the guardian venues carried arms, but apparently they believed in safety in numbers.

Women's Union Holds Annual Meeting at RVC

Reports from Organizations Are Submitted

The Annual Meeting of the Women's Union was held in R.V.C. Common Room on Friday at 2.30 p.m. with the president, Sylvia Grove, presiding.

The minutes of the last meeting, held in March, were read by Dorothy Murray, secretary of the Women's Union, and approved by the meeting. The financial report was given by Margery Gaunt, newly appointed treasurer of the Union. According to previous regulations, the publication of the financial report was scheduled to precede this meeting, but its publication today was approved by the meeting—the delay having been necessitated by lack of space on Friday.

It was announced that the Women's Union had purchased a $500.00 Victory Bond, and the treasurer announced that the purchase of another such bond might be possible in the near future. Grants for the coming year include $500.00 for the Red Wing Society, which formerly was subsidized by the M.W.S.A.A., and which has proved so valuable a campus organization.

Reports of the various societies were given by representatives:

Women's Science Club: Marlon Savage.
School for Graduate Nurses: Lilian Archer.
La Societe Francaise: Elinor Laing.
Glee Club: Margaret MacGarry.
Women's Debating Society: Ivy Lawrence.
Freshie Reception Committee: Ruth Hill.
"McGill Daily": Judith Jaffe.
Spanish Club: Marie Lafontaine.
Literary Society: Dorothy Murray.
R.V.C. Historical Club: Jean Clarke.

Players Plan Two Comedies

Club Officers Expect Wide Activity Range

The Players Club, at their first meeting of the season last Friday afternoon, discussed plans for the coming year. Two plays, either murder mystery or straight comedy, will be produced. One of the plays being considered is the riotous comedy "My Dear Children." The executive hope to present their first play sometime in December. Casting for parts in the plays will be on Thursday and Friday of this week, in the Players Club room in the Union.

Secretary Joan Coulter stated that a great number of old members and many freshmen attended the initial organization meeting of the Players Club. President Murdoch Harvey and director John Millor plan to stress the Club atmosphere more so than in other years. Not only will meetings be for casting and acting, but various parties and entertainments will be given for the members throughout the year.

Any students who are interested in taking part in the activities of the Players Club and who were unable to attend the meeting last Friday are invited to be present at future gatherings. Notices regarding further meetings and other matters of interest to the Players Club members will appear regularly in the Daily.

Norman Viner Speaks to Circle

"In Rome Do As Romans Do" Members Told

The Maccabean Circle held the opening meeting of the season Sunday afternoon in the Union Grill Room. Dr. Norman Viner was the guest speaker and addressed the students on the subject of assimilation.

The president, Hyman Surchin, opened the meeting by welcoming all, especially the freshmen and those members of the R.C.A.F. who were taking the Radiolocator course at McGill, to another season of Maccabean Circle activities. After the members of the executive were introduced, Dick Goldbloom was elected male freshman representative. Mervyn Weiner was elected representative to the Students' War Council. Hy Surchin then announced that the opening social would be held on November 15. He then called for volunteers to help in the Y.M.H.A. Salvage Campaign which is to take place on November 11.

Cosmos Hear Laviolette at Club Meeting

Speaker Outlines Society's Past And Significance

The first meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club was held in the Recreation Room of Strathcona Hall at 8.30 p.m.

The special speaker for the evening was Professor Laviolette, of the Department of Sociology at McGill. Professor Laviolette has been appointed Faculty Advisor to the Cosmopolitan Club for this year. In his address, he outlined the history of the Club and its importance as a campus organization.

Following this, there was dancing and a general get-together, affording those present a better chance to get more thoroughly acquainted. Refreshments were served.

Kerefa Smart, a member of the executive of the Club, later stated that the meeting was considered very successful. A large number attended, he said, and there was an especially large percentage of non-Canadian students, including many who are at this university for the first time. The School for Graduate Nurses was well represented on this occasion.

Aim of Cosmopolitan Club

The definite aim and purpose of the Club is to bring Canadian and non-Canadian students into closer harmony with one another, to promote sympathetic understanding of the needs and problems of both, and to further the feeling of international good will, which becomes so important. It is realized that this can be best accomplished if increasing numbers of students do take part in the activities of this organization, and hence an invitation is issued to all students who are interested to become members. An effort is now being put forth by this branch, to become affiliated with the International Cosmopolitan Club.

The Women's Science Club will meet for the first time this year at a luncheon to be held in the Union Grill Room at one o'clock this afternoon.

The business of the meeting will include the election of a representative from the Class of '45, and a schedule of subsequent meetings will be arranged. Tentative plans have been made to hold monthly meetings throughout the scholastic year.

As a result of the rise in food prices an announcement has been made that it will be impossible to furnish this afternoon's luncheon free of charge.

It is also stated that the luncheon meeting will be finished before two o'clock lab periods begin.

Later Date Is Set for War Council Meeting

It has been announced by the Students' Executive Council, that the date of the prospective War Council Meeting has been postponed from Monday, October 26, the date set in the letter circulated among all campus clubs and societies, to Thursday, October 30. Otherwise the plans are unchanged.

The aforementioned letter sets forth the aims of the proposed Council—to co-ordinate the war effort so as to obtain the maximum efficiency, to bring about a closer co-operation between the various societies and clubs, and to prepare the students for later leadership in the nation's affairs.

Nominations Received for Arts Years

Smoker to Be Held Tuesday For Artsmen

Some of the nominations for the positions of class officers in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences have been announced. For President of the fourth year, a nomination has been received for Kevin L. Hargadon. Bob Kingsland has been nominated for third year President, and for Vice-President, Clifton Beck. Two nominations have been received for the office of President of the second year, for Bob Law and Bob MacIntosh.

Since so few nominations have been received, the deadline for nominations has been extended to Tuesday at 1.00 p.m. Nominations are lacking for the position of Secretary-Treasurer in all years. No nominations at all have been received for class officers in the first year, nor have any come in for the Vice-President of the second and fourth years.

All nominees for these positions will be presented to the Arts Undergraduate Society at the Arts and Science Smoker, which will be held Tuesday night.

Smoker on Tuesday Night

The Smoker is a general get-together, to be held for all members of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. Various entertainment will be presented for the amusement of the guests. Jock Smith, the piper of the C.O.T.C. has been invited to attend and render a few selections.

Bob Spencer, the ex-president of the Arts Undergraduate Society, will give a short talk on activities of the Society in years past, and Tom Mulligan, present chief executive, will speak on the activities planned for this year.

There will be an ample supply of free beer (this is the first Smoker in several years to serve beer), cokes, cigarettes, and possibly pretzels. There will also be good jokes and several surprises for the guests. All members of the Faculty will be required to check in with their registration cards when they enter—a necessary precaution, so said the committee, for the exclusion of engineers.

'Irish People' Topic of Talk

Early History of Ireland Described By Dr. Martin

The Guest Speaker at the Newman Club's second meeting of the present session was Dr. C. P. Martin, who addressed the gathering at Congress Hall. He spoke briefly about the history and culture of the early inhabitants of Ireland, and traced their progress in these spheres until the coming of the Christian missionaries.

Depicting the various Ages of Ireland by means of slides, Dr. Martin described the burying mounds and cysts that still stand today as monuments of the Stone, Bronze, and Iron Ages. These structures show that "civilization in Ireland was relatively high even centuries before the coming of the Christians."

The round towers that are scattered along the coasts of Ireland were explained by Dr. Martin to be places of refuge for the sick and infirm during the Norsemen's raids of the ninth century. They were impregnable to the Vikings' assaults, so were used to store the sacred relics of the Church.

Mary Roche read a short paper on "A Best Seller," the Bible, emphasizing its influence on English literature.

Mile of Pennies Campaign Sets 82,000 Coins as Goal

Annual Issues Call for Pictures Of 'Campus Life'

Winners Will Receive Copies Of 'Old McGill' By F.J.P.

Paging all camera fans! The Annual has sent out a call for pictures in its yearly "Campus Life" Contest. Remember, the prizes in this contest are free copies of "Old McGill." That means you won't be losing that $4.00 you would otherwise be deducting from your caution money.

Any picture representing a collegiate subject is eligible; and "collegiate" includes those pictures taken on field trips, at college dances or plays, at sports events or military activities and during lectures.

It is the campus life section as well as the pictures of the graduates that in the years after graduation serve to bring back remembrances of college ties.

Next time you are having prints made, get an extra one for the Annual, and leave it with Fred Barton or at the Union Tuck Shop. Address your entries to Fred Paine, Photographic Editor, McGill Annual.

At this time the board is particularly anxious to obtain pictures taken at the Track Meet, the Inter-Company football games, and at Freshman activities.

Good luck! and don't forget to put your name on the back of each picture submitted.

Philosophers Plan Meeting

Change Due to Week's Illness Of Randolph

The date of the Philosophical Society's first meeting has been changed from Wednesday to Wednesday, November 5th, owing to the fact that the vice-president of the society, John Randolph, who is also to be the speaker at the meeting, has been ill most of the past week. The gathering will take place in Strathcona Hall, as announced.

The subject of the speaker's discussion has been changed from "Expediency in Ethics" to "Ethics and the Struggle for Existence." An open discussion of the topic will be held at the conclusion of the address.

All students of philosophy are invited to attend, especially those who have just begun the study of philosophy.

It is further announced that the Executive of the society will hold a meeting on Tuesday, at three o'clock when plans will be discussed for the coming year's program.

The officers of the club are as follows: Professor R. D. McLennan, Honorary President; Boris Wallis, President; John Randolph, Vice-president; Lloyd Henderson, Secretary; Agnes Ferencz, Treasurer.

To Use Money To Buy Bren Guns for War

The first coin will be placed on the line at 8.30 this morning at the official opening of the McGill Mile of Pennies Campaign. Approximately 82,000 more pennies will complete the mile, the proceeds of which go to the purchase of Bren Guns, to be inscribed with the name of McGill University.

Beginning at the Roddick gates and leading to the tomb of James McGill, there are eight parallel white lines. Twenty posters have been put up on the campus and in the various buildings. A banner across the Roddick gates invites passers-by to give their spare pennies to the drive.

Although a McGill drive, contributions are anticipated from outside sources, and the committee has estimated, taking this factor into consideration, that an average contribution of thirty cents from each student and staff member will cover the mile, which was laid out yesterday afternoon with a tennis court marker.

$200 in Pennies.

$200.00 dollars worth of new 1941 copper pieces were obtained from a downtown bank Saturday morning in sacks direct from the mint. The change, which weighed approximately one hundred and fifty pounds, has been given to the penny-changers, who will have booths in the various buildings where contributors may change their silver coins into copper in order to place them on the line.

Contributors will receive red ribbons for a contribution of thirty cents or over, but it is expected that students and staff members will place their odd pennies on the line or in boxes provided for the purpose, as well as giving their formal contribution.

The ribbons will be given only when each contributor puts his pennies down, and not when he receives his change.

The pennies will be taken up each night and the length that they have covered indicated by painting over the white line with the red. A sizeable collection of coppers has already been made by the Union Tuck Shop, which has provided a box for the deposition of spare pennies.

Old Coins Donated.

A collection of old coins has been given to the committee for use on

Plans are under way for entertainment for members of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences in a celebration of Halloween. It was announced that this entertainment will take the form of a hayride on Friday night. The plans are still indefinite as to details, but it is known that the evening will be strictly informal, with an opportunity for wearing old clothes in the real Halloween spirit. After the hayride, there will be a barn dance, with admission at $1.25 a couple. Final plans will be announced at the Arts Smoker on Tuesday night.

Harriers for Dartmouth Meet Named

Plans Underway for Intercompany Race On Nov. 5

The trials to determine the McGill representatives to journey to Dartmouth next weekend to participate in the college harrier meet were held on Saturday over the gruelling mountain course and from the results of this race seven men were selected to race at Dartmouth.

Showing his usual dependable style Glenn Cowan romped in ahead of the pack with a time of 24:08, a full minute and a quarter ahead of his nearest rival, Paul Peter, who rounded the course in 25:22.

The men who will make the trip to Dartmouth will include Glenn Cowan, Paul Peter, Bill Long, Bob Macintosh, Reid Hyde, Maurice Godine and Joe Berman. These men will pay their own expenses to Hanover, where they will be the guests of Dartmouth and therefore will not officially represent the college or incur any expenses for the college.

INTERCOMPANY MEET.

While plans are going ahead for the Dartmouth meet further plans are underway to hold an intercompany harrier meet on November 5 at 5.15 p.m. This race will start and finish at the Stadium and the proposed course will be about three miles long which will probably wind up the mountain to the chalet and back by the same way. This route will be much simpler than the course on which the seasoned veterans are training.

Each man who finishes the race will score a point for his company, and in addition the first 15 to finish will score as follows: 1st, 15 points; 2nd, 14 points; 3rd, 13 points; ... 15th, 1 point.

DUNLOP RACE PLANNED.

The date for the annual Dunlop race is not definite as yet but it will be probably run on Saturday, November 15. The distance of this race is 5 miles and the course will wind through the city streets. Last year the Dunlop race was run in connection with the McGill Intercompany meet and McGill turned out three full teams, all of which finished the race. Any man who would like to run this year may enter and further arrangements may be made with Coach Van Wagner.

The complete results of last Saturday's trials were as follows: 1st—Cowan, 24:08; 2nd—Peter, 25:22; 3rd—Long, 25:35; 4th—Macintosh, 26:29; 5th—Hyde, 26:59; 6th—Godine, 27:19; 7th—Lloyd Smith, 28:25; 8th—Parkinson, 29:15; 9th—Karefa-Smart, 29:27.

"G" Coy. vs. R.C.A.F. In Touch Football

Touch Rugby, a game which is new to intra-mural sports at McGill this year, will be put to the supreme test this afternoon when a team representing "G" Company of the M.R.T.B. will pit its strength against an outfit from the Air Force Squadron stationed at this University.

The Airmen have been practicing every Wednesday afternoon at Molson stadium and appear to be in excellent shape for their first encounter with a team from the Reserve Training Battalion. The "G" Company representatives, although short of actual practice, seem to possess some very promising material, and a really fast battle should result.

The game, being one of the fastest and most exciting sports, will necessarily require many substitutes both for the present and in future games, so this tussle will give all those who wish to gain a first hand impression of the game an opportunity. The scene of action will be the upper stadium next to Douglas Hall and the time will be 5.15 this afternoon.

The game between Companies "A" and "D" at 4.15 is also likely to be a well contested event, though it will be the first game for both teams.

The March of Sport by Allan

Now that Intercollegiate sports have been off the Canadian map, for over a year, the minds of those ardent sport fans begin after every little memento, to wander back to those good old days, when it wasn't for knowledge that we went to college. And although their better sense admits that those days have passed for the time being, it is a good time to consider sports in a more serious light. The fact that it has not been completely abolished, seems to indicate that athletics has some intrinsic value, and in time of war, this value should be investigated, and its most suitable mode of service found.

Several years ago, there was a move underway to abolish football at American colleges, because of the undue importance placed upon the game. The time had come for the coaches all over the country, who had devoted their lives to the welfare of the game, to speak up. Competitive sports they likened to life itself; the qualities of sportsmanship and leadership and self-reliance, necessary to make a football player, they found necessary to the makeup of a man.

To approach more closely present day conditions, a high official at the U.S. Military Academy is reported to be convinced of the importance of football, to the teaching of the military art.

The importance of recreation to both soldier and civilian is great. Recreation is of two kinds; namely, active, in which those concerned take part, and passive, in which they are spectators. The former case is quite completely taken care of by the well organized intercompany sports program, which not only opens the way for participation of all students, but offers them the widest selection of activities possible.

On the other hand, exhibitions that have been held, have been more to the taste of the spectator, and of those who feel that the support of a cheering audience and of an institution they represent, brings out the best in the particular teams taking part. The carnival and the gymkhana accomplished all this, but went further in supplying a measure of financial aid to the war effort.

The high standard of sport is being maintained in harrier competition by the unofficial team formed by those interested in this sport. The invitation of these runners to take part in the Hanover meet as guests of Dartmouth has been a great opportunity to the better competitors to meet the type of opposition that inspires their best efforts.

Tars Trip Airmen by 8 to 1; Army Rips Through Aggies

Navy Wingline Power Proves Decisive

By A.S.T.

While the Air Force was being grounded due to poor aerial conditions, the Navy launched all its dreadnaughts onto the watery field and ploughed its way to an 8 to 1 victory over the handicapped airmen on Friday.

With such stalwarts as Rapelje missing, the fliers were not at their best against the big guns of the tars.

AIF FORCE SCORES FIRST.

The play opened with Stronach kicking off for the Navy. Due to superior kicking, plunging, and tackling the Air Force slowly rolled their opponents back into their own territory. Finally Goldsborough recovered a fumble on the Navy thirty, plunged for eight yards on the next play, from where Jack Keay kicked to Byington behind the goal-line and Mann made the tackle for a rouge.

Again the Air Force sprung into action, as plunges by Carroll, Benjamin, Fitzpatrick, Fraser Farlinger, and Goldsborough brought them to the Navy nine yard line.

At this point the whole game changed its appearance. The airmen had been supreme, but when, just at the enemy threshold, Robinson recovered an Air Force fumble and then the Navy began to unleash its power, Dixon broke loose through the fliers' line and plunged for (Continued on Page Four)

Soldiers Score Five Touches In Victory

By H. K. N.

Before a cold but enthusiastic crowd at St. Anne's Saturday afternoon, McGill's Army squad trounced the Macdonald grid-ders on the Green and Gold home field with a 30 to 3 win, giving the Army team first place in the intramural football league with a record of three wins in as many games played. Army's aerial attacks played a major part in the high scoring of the game, definitely outweighing the otherwise arresting Macdonald line.

Almost immediately after Sevig's opening kick-off for Macdonald, Army began her terrorizing aerial assaults to gain the first points of the tussle, when Outmet kicked over the line after a brilliant 30 yd. run by Lafoley in the opening seconds of the game. Shortly after Outmet made a beautiful 40 yard kick to bring the score to 2-0 for Army. Before the Aggies could rally their team against the sudden Army assaults, the latter manager to gain the first touchdown of the day when Cleary completed a 30 yard forward pass and ran another 20 yards to the Macdonald 1-yard line, Poulson going over for the touch in the next down. E. Smith's convert made the score 8-0 at this point. Not content with these opening scores Army bolted (Continued on Page Four)

Gymnastic Club Opens Season

Personal Coaching for Each Member

The first gymnastic practice of the season has been scheduled for Tuesday, October 28th, at 5.00 p.m. The practice is to be held in the gymnasium and will consist of a light workout on all pieces of apparatus.

The Gymnastic Club especially welcomes those who have done any gymnastics either in public school, high school, college, or elsewhere, and urges freshmen and any others at McGill for the first time to be sure to turn out.

There is a big place in the gymnastic club for beginners and every man who turns out is assured the personal attention of the coach and his squad of leaders.

All of last year's club members are expected to be on hand to assist in acclimatizing the newcomers. The following are particularly urged to turn out: Jerry Leonards, Basil Burgess, Don Spearman, Terry (Continued on Page Four)

This would be a good time for platoon basketball teams to get in some practice.

Softball Schedule Enters Second Half

With only two games left to play, the first half of the Inter-Company Softball League is rapidly coming to a close. During the second half of the schedule, the three lowest standing teams are to be dropped and two outfits from the R.C.A.F. plus another Independent team will be put in their places.

These eight teams will participate in a league composed of two sections of four teams each. At the end of the regular league play, the two section leaders will play off for the soft ball championship.

All games in this qualifying series will be five inning fixtures and those in the final eliminations will consist of seven frames. All games, from now on, are to be played within the gymnasium. In order to bring the league to a close during early November, there will be two games per day, one at 5.00 p.m. and the other at 6.00 p.m.

Winning teams get ten points per game and the losers obtain five. It is urged therefore, that teams representing their companies show up in time for the games because win or lose, some points will be gained by the company.

U. of M. Net Exhibition Tomorrow

Doubles Semi-finals To Be Completed Today

After the weather forced a postponement of the tennis exhibition with the University of Montreal, from its original date, hopes of holding it last Saturday were quickly dashed. The visitors, who would have been free any afternoon, happened to be out of town over the weekend, and a further delay was necessary. From latest information, a definite date has again been set, for tomorrow afternoon on the campus courts.

One again, however, the plans will depend upon suitable arrangements with the reserve training battalion. Two of the selected McGill players, Heinrich and Richer, being Engineers, are scheduled for military training tomorrow afternoon; but the threat of increasingly cold weather, and the anxiety of the players to hold this competition, makes the earliest possible

Meeting war-time needs

The new "VICTORY POLICY"

Patriotism demands that you invest regularly in War Savings Certificates. Yet you need insurance protection too—an age when rates are still conveniently low.

The new "Victory Policy" developed by The Mutual Life of Canada enables you to meet both these essential needs. Premiums are exceedingly low for a fixed period of years, while you are investing in War Savings Certificates. And even at the end of this period, when the rate is adjusted, the premium is still lower than you would normally pay. You will be able to use the proceeds of your War Savings Certificates as they mature to pay the premiums.

Permanent protection

The "Victory Policy" is a permanent plan of life insurance. It has been specially prepared to meet your immediate needs and to provide future protection as well. The new "Victory Policy" is available to every adult who is insurable... and is especially attractive to students.

Ask your nearest Mutual Life representative for complete details of this plan. Or write to The Mutual Life of Canada, Waterloo, Ont.

TROPHY PRESENTED

One of the highlights of the afternoon will be the presentation of the Dr. Martin Trophy to Bob Watt, the men's singles champion. Mrs. Vaughan, whose husband presented the cup to the McGill Tennis Club, will perform the ceremony.

The weatherman has further done everything in his power to prevent the completion of the doubles tournament, making a very difficult first year for this competition. Today, the semi-final match between Heinrich-Robinson vs. Mc-thirty yards, Byington made yards through centre, and then Stronach kicked over the goal-line and Fitzpatrick was forced out of bounds with the ball.

Martin-Thompson, is scheduled for five o'clock, the winner to face Watt and Macken for the title.

This made the score 1-1 as the half ended.

A slight rain, which made things miserable during the first half of the game, disappeared when the third quarter got under way, but the field was still soft and muddy.

Navy Takes Lead

Featured by a twenty-five yard run by Byington, the Navy battle-ship steadily pushed their rivals deep into the Air Force territory until Stronach was within range. He unleashed a powerful punt to the deadline and Navy took the lead early in the second half.

It was Navy again when Robinson recovered another Air Force fumble on their thirteen. Several plunges brought the ball up close from where Hall broke through for a major score at 14:20 of the third quarter. Hall drop-kicked for the convert.

In the last quarter, Navy kept up their pressure but failed to score due to the fine running and punting of Keay.

Defensively, MacCallum, Jones, and particularly Leib, were tackling well, while the fine kicking of Stronach, especially in the third quarter, offset the punting advantage supposedly possessed by the airmen.

THE LINE-UPS:

Navy: Flying wing: Hall; Halves: Futtler, Read and Stronach; Quarter: Byington; Snap: Jones; Insides: Jordan and Maase; Middles: Robinson and Dixon; Ends: MacCallum and Cooper; Subs: Smith, Skelton, MacEachran, and Savage.

Air Force: Flying Wing: Scoble; Halves: Keay, F. Farlinger, and Wallace; Quarter: Fitzpatrick; Snap: Leib; Insides: Young and Beaulac; Middles: Carroll and Benjamin; Ends: Mann and Campbell; Subs: Darragh, Powles, Victor, Goldsbrough, Colpitts.

Army Rips Through Aggies

ahead with increased gusto to make their yards four time in succession to bring themselves to the Macdonald 1-yard line at quarter time. Here, to the delight of Mac's wide-eyed co-eds, the Green and Gold answered the call of "hold that line," and the Army juggernaut was kept at bay for a brief spell.

ARMY SCORES AGAIN.

However, it was not long before the Red and White team took the spotlight once again. Lefalvre brought a Mac kick to the latter's 2-yard line and Laffoley went over for a touchdown.

Here the Aggies made a brief comeback, and with brilliant plunging, managed to gain two points on two of Cameron's kicks. The first half closed with the two teams feeling for openings, and to the relief of the home team's supporters, the pace of the visitors slackened slightly.

MACDONALD FUMBLES.

The third quarter of this singularly unusual game saw Army gain two touchdowns on Macdonald fumbles. With a 13-2 lead for Army and the Aggies rallying to a strong defence and possible scoring spree, spectators, frozen, but excited, were ready for anything. However, the plays that followed were almost too much for the Green and Gold backers to bear. To begin with, Earl Smith recovered a Mac fumble, and with the field open ahead of him, ran for the third touchdown of the game. Shortly afterwards "Johnny-on-the-Spot" Tepner recovered a Mac fumble behind the Aggies' line to bring Army her fourth touchdown.

The last quarter saw Macdonald rallying to try to turn the tables before the closing whistle. Petch and Krassa intercepted two of Army's many forward passes, and a long kick by Cameron brought the Aggies another hard-earned point to make the score 24 to 3. From then on a volley of Army forward passes abolished any hope of a Macdonald comeback. A 15 yard forward pass from Gibson to Earl Smith brought the ball to Macdonald's 1-yard line. Morgan carried the ball over the line and Smith followed with a successful convert to bring the final score to 30 to 3 in favour of the Army squad.

MACDONALD STARS

Leaders in Macdonald's defensive assaults on Saturday were McTeer, who starred on the running plays, Petch, on the line, and Grant and Krassa, who were the feature tacklers on the losing team.

THE LINE-UPS:

Army: Flying wing, Poulson; halves, Earl Smith, Oulmet, Laffoley; quarter, Gibson; Snap, Farlinger; insides, Smith, Millholland; middles, Morgan, Lefalvre; outsides, Cleary and Little; subs, Utley, Tepner, McGowan.

Macdonald: Flying wing, Cameron; halves, McTeer, Jenkins, Sevig; quarter, McCuaig; snap, Goodwin; insides, Lassar, Steen; middles, Malevitch, Robertson; out-sides, Petch, Helndel; subs, Grant, Waterson, Gosdun, Lloyd, Maxley, Pomeroy, Reid, Wilson, McMillan, Krassa, Anderson.

Women's Union Hold Annual Meeting at R.V.C.

Hamilton. The results gave the office to Janet Hamilton.

Mrs. O. O. Maass, President of the McGill Branch of the Red Cross, then spoke to the meeting, for a few minutes, and stressed the pressing need for workers for this branch of war activities. She stated that there had been a decrease in the number of workers and she urged the women to make an extra effort to do more work for the Red Cross regularly, even if it were possible to go to the rooms for only an hour at a time. She said further that there was a large amount of knitting and sewing on hand which could be taken out and done at home.

Sylvia Grove mentioned the War Council and stressed the necessity for such an organization at McGill. Through it, she said, students would be able to "fight for victory and work for peace." She spoke also of the purpose of the Women's Union itself—to promote the cultural, social and recreational interests of the university women.

The executive brought forward a suggestion that the Women's Union make a presentation of forage caps to the Red Cross Corps. A grant of $40.00 was voted for the purpose. These caps will be kept permanently in the McGill Red Cross Corps.

A Program Committee was elected: Joan Edward, Mary Miller, Marjorie Cross, Sylvia Chaplin and Anne Perry.

South American Movies to Be Shown At First Meeting

Technicolor movies of a South American trip will be featured at the meeting of the Club Hispanico Thursday night. These films, loaned by Dr. Marchand, are being shown at the club's first meeting of the season, which will be in the Union Grill Room at 8.15 p.m.

The executive announced that this year, as in the past, they are adopting as informal as possible a method of procedure so that even those who know little Spanish may enter the activities, becoming more fluent in the language as they go along. The club was organized to extend the appreciation of the Spanish language and culture, and to enable those interested in Spanish at McGill to meet the students from Mexico and South America who are studying here, and to get to know their outlook and way of life. In these days when Pan-Americanism and Western Hemisphere defence are an important factor in the maintenance of the democratic ideal, we feel that the citizens of the countries in this part of the world should have a better knowledge of each other's customs, the president stated.

The meetings of the club are open to all interested in Spanish. Those on this year's executive are: Roberto Estrada, president; Judith Jaffe, vice-president; Carlos Gubbins, secretary; and Mary Eddy, treasurer.

the mile. Numbering about a hundred, and dating from 1834, the coins were the contribution of the granddaughter of the late John Redpath. Medical students, finding it inconvenient to put pennies on the main line, will have a special one of their own in the Medical Building.

The red ribbons, the donation of the T. Eaton Co., were prepared for wear by R.V.C. volunteers.

The twenty posters distributed about the campus bear legends such as: "The Money You Spend on Today's Dessert Will Do More Good to This Line than to Your Waistline."

"Parking Here for Pennies Only—That Red Ribbon is a Parking Ticket for Thirty Coppers." "Think! Then lay out your pennies. Think Again! Then Lay out Some More."

The Committee held a meeting of volunteers last Friday, when times of duty were outlined for each member. Others, wishing to volunteer, or those who did not attend Friday's meeting, have been requested by the chairmen to get in touch with them with reference to the times that they will be available for guarding-duty.
